

- A For to see what the figures on the scales were.
- Q About what time of night was this?
- A I don't know, but I know it was dark.
- Q Had Dusk set in long before?
- A I quit fishing. I had been fishing earlier in the evening and I did not have any luck, and I got disgusted and came back to the house and the lights were lit. And I came back like all other fishermen. I was just anxious to know whether any more were being caught.
- Q And it was when you came back that you discussed with Mr. Stevens and Mr. Applegate the weight of this blue-fish?
- A The fish was weighed after I came back, yes.
- Q About how long after you came back?
- A Now, I don't know. All I know it was dark. The only thing I can do is guess.
- Q We don't want you to guess, of course. Would you say it was after seven o'clock?
- A Oh, yes.
- Q Would you say it was after seven-thirty?
- A Yes, after that time.
- Q Would you say it was after eight o'clock?
- A Not knowing, only guessing at it, I would guess it was nine o'clock. Now, that is Standard Time.
- Q I beg your pardon?
- A We have Standard Time. That was Standard Time.
